

Thomas Bolduc, MD

Additional Background

Dr. Thomas Bolduc, a native of Portland, Maine, met his wife at the University of Vermont College of Medicine. After finishing their pediatric residencies at UVM, they were pediatricians for the US Navy in Yokosuka, Japan and Bremerton, Washington. After the Navy, they spent the next ten years sharing a pediatric practice in Walla Walla, Washington, raising their two sons, and exploring the western US. In 2013, after 14 years away, they decided it was time to come "home" to Vermont. Dr. Bolduc enjoys hiking, snowshoeing, flat-water kayaking, cooking, and time in his hammock.
